WHY IS BETHLEHEM CALLED "THE CITY OF DAVID"?

Isn't Jerusalem more important for King David than Bethlehem?

*Once in royal David's city
Stood a lowly cattle shed
Where a mother laid her Baby
In a manger for His bed:
Mary was that mother mild,
Jesus Christ her little Child.*

This beloved Christmas song describes the scene of the Nativity, so we know we're in Bethlehem. But why is it called "royal David's city"? David was the king of Judea, and his throne was in Jerusalem. Wouldn't that city be called royal David's city? Yes, all the kings of Judea governed from Jerusalem – however, David was born...in Bethlehem.

THE CHURCH OF THE NATIVITY IN BETHLEHEM

The first time we hear of David in Sacred Scripture, he is living with his father, Jesse the Bethlehemite (1 Sam. 16). How fitting and beautiful that Jesus Christ – the longed-for Messiah – is later born in the same city as the king whose lineage He entered into!

Also significant is the name "Bethlehem," which means, in Hebrew, "House of Bread." Ponder the Eucharistic meaning hidden in that name this Christmas! Many beautiful Christmas hymns speak with tenderness about Bethlehem and the Holy Event it housed.

CHRISTMAS SERMON 2024

Sam was a very wealthy man. He held a patent for his creation of glue that could fix cracks in metal engines. All the car manufacturers wanted his product. He made thousands of dollars even in his sleep.

Sam was a single parent who doted on his only child Will after the passing of his mother. Sam gave Will anything he wanted. The kids in Will's high school knew about his wealth. All the girls wanted to date Will because of his dad's fortune. Will was average looking with a few extra pounds and a one pack unlike the handsome school jocks who sported eight packs. At first Will enjoyed being popular with the girls. He soon realized they didn't want him but the luxury of flying on his dad's private plane to vacations in the Bahamas.

When Will was accepted at Yale, he offered his father a plan. "I want everyone to think I got accepted on a scholarship. I'm ditching my Prada and Gucci designer clothes. I will wear scruffy clothes, so they think I am poor. I want friends who will love me for me.

The plan worked. Will was popular because of the goodness others saw in him. By his third year Will fell madly in love with a girl named Susan who loved him for him.

Will proposed marriage to Susan. He was overjoyed and she said "yes". She brought Will to meet her parents at Thanksgiving. Susan's parents also had money which opened doors to membership in high society. She showed mom and dad her engagement ring which consisted of one small diamond. They were underwhelmed, calling the ring "quaint". The parents were so disappointed that their daughter fell in love with a "commoner".

Susan convinced her parents to invite Will's father, Sam, for Christmas. Sam played his part very well. He not only looked poor but homeless. Susan's dad, Farlow, told Sam, "We hope you and Will can fit in." They made both Will and Sam feel they were not worthy of joining their family.

At Christmas eve presents were exchanged. Farlow and his wife, Martha, handed Will a box with a car key inside. They led him to their garage where sat a beautiful red Porsche. "We don't want our daughter riding in your old clunker."

Susan's parents expected Will to gush with excitement over owning a very expensive car. Instead, he deadpanned, "It's nice. I have owned a few of these Posche's over the years."

Farlow and Martha "guffawed" with boisterous laughter like rich people do when they hear a "funny". "How could you ever have owned several Porche's with you and your father dressed like that?"

Sam replied, "Well, Farlow, I want my son loved for who he is and not the 200-million-dollar trust fund he will receive on his wedding day." And when I die, Will shall receive another 370 million dollars from my estate."

Susan, Farlow and Martha's jaw fell to the floor so hard one could hear a "thud". Sam, then gave Will and Susan an envelope containing a deed to a 5-million-dollar home in New York where they will live after Will graduates.

Will asked Susan if she is angry that he hid his wealth from her. She replied, "not at all!" He asked her if he should give back the house to his father. She replied, "Don't you dare."

Sam gave one last piece of advice to his son, "Remember, Will, you yourself are good enough."

Will and Susan gave birth to a daughter they named "Rain". Proud grandpa Sam bought a 5-million-dollar house next to Will and Susan so he could babysit.

Jesus came to earth to proclaim to all, "You yourself are good enough". It doesn't matter how much money you have, what you look like, what you have achieved or what social circles you hang out in. Everyone has worth. Everyone is important in God's eyes. Genesis 1:31 says, "Then God looked over all he had made, and he saw that it was very good!"

It is false to believe that to be good enough you must compare yourselves to others who seem to have it all, good looking, success, and lots of money. Then you are forced to prove you have worth, that you are enough.

God doesn't buy into that. You have worth not by what you do, not by what you own, but by who you are...a child of God. Jesus said, "Fear not, therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows." (Matthew 10:31) We are all equal in importance to God because we are created in His image. God does not make junk.

God first announced the Good News of the birth of Jesus not to the wealthy, not to the powerful, but to the shepherds. Shepherds were considered scum by their society. They were dirty and uneducated. Many were former prisoners forced to work with smelly sheep. God showed he valued the shepherds as equally worthy as dignitaries, nobles, priests and kings.

The bible says, "For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works." (Eph 2:10) The best Christmas gift you can give is to show another the goodness that lies within them. Mother Theresa said, "It is Christmas time every time you let God love others through you." Merry Christmas

SERMON ON LUKE 2:41-52

In fourth grade I had to stay after school for basketball practice. I forgot to tell mom and forgot that I forgot to tell her. While I was having fun missing shot after shot (and even the entire backboard), my mother was in sheer panic mode. Mom called the school. They didn't know where I was. I came home around six to find a Conway police cruiser sitting in front of our house. I walked through the door "with great anxiety". Mom was crying her heart out. I asked her, "What happened? Are you alright?" She yelled, "Michael, where have you been? I had to call the police to look for you!" I thought to myself, "I'm going to get arrested. I better make a run for it to the woods." I stayed calm. I told her and the officer, "I been dribblin at the school gym." Mom then said something I never forgot. "If something happened to you, I couldn't live anymore." More tears flowed. The officer looked at me angrily. "See what you did to your mother? I'll let you off with a warning. Don't ever do that again!" I stared at the floor, relieved that Five-O did not lock the silver bracelet around my wrist. (I heard the officer softly laughing as he walked out the door.)

Luke tells the story of Jesus going AWOL from Mary and Joseph for three days. In 2:48 Luke quotes Mary as saying, "Your father and I have been looking for you with great anxiety." The Greek word for anxiety really means, "tortured with grief" like a person would feel when losing a loved one. Jesus was the world to Mary.

I believe God loves you so much He sent Jesus into our world to show how much you mean to Him. Jesus gave up His life so God can live in your life. "Jerusalem, Jerusalem! You kill the prophets. You kill with stones those men that God has sent you. How many times I wanted to help your people. I wanted to gather them together as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings. But you did not let me." (Luke 13:34) It hurts God deeply when you don't let Him in. God grieves over those who reject Him. The greatest pain of Jesus on the Cross was not physical. Jesus was tortured with grief over the many who would shut him out.

When someone you love is hurting, don't you hurt with them? Of course you do. God is no different. Sadly, I have worked with many people who in the midst of their suffering feel God has abandoned them. When they most need God's Love, they turn away from Him. "God if you really love me why is this happening?" They don't understand. They doubt. Then leave. Even Jesus said on the Cross, "My God, My God why have abandoned me?" (Matthew 27:46) Jesus felt abandonment just like us. But Jesus did not stop with the first verse in Psalm 22. The Psalm ends with praise to God. "The poor will eat and be satisfied; those who seek the LORD will praise him— may your hearts live forever!" Take that Satan!

We are soon approaching another demarcation of time called the "New Year". I pray there will be more joyful moments than sad ones in 2025. But the sad ones will come. How do you get through those hurtful times? There is only one way. Radical Faith. The word "radical" comes from the word "root" like the root of a plant. Plant deep in the soil of your soul the root of faith in God. When you do that, the root of faith will sprout forth God's peace the world cannot give, the strength to endure anything life throws your way, and the security that God's Love will cover you like a blanket. Don't give Satan the pleasure of doubting God's Love.

Write this bible verse down on paper and tape it to your refrigerator, "Cast your cares on the Lord and he will sustain you" (Psalm 55:22).

What put the "Holy" in Holy Family? Jesus, Mary and Joseph put God in charge of everything, even when they didn't understand what God was doing. The most important words Mary ever spoke was "Let this be done to me according to your word. Then the angel left her. (Luke 1:38) Believe that God, Emanuel, God with us, will never leave you. Blessings...Fr. Mike
