PRIORITIES AT THE POLLS

By Most Reverend Joseph F. Naumann

As Catholics approach the polls, we are asked to weigh many important issues. The U.S. bishops have reaffirmed that “the threat of abortion remains our preeminent priority because it directly attacks life itself, because it takes place within the sanctuary of the family, and because of the number of lives destroyed.”¹ While they did warn us not to “dismiss or ignore other serious threats to human life and dignity such as racism, the environmental crisis, poverty, and the death penalty,” they did give priority to upholding and defending our brothers’ and sisters’ most basic right—to live.

Abortion tragically ends someone’s life when he or she is most vulnerable and most in need of loving protection. Abortion is an intrinsic evil, meaning that it is never permitted or morally justified, regardless of individual circumstances or intentions. The personal and societal consequences of attacks against human life,

In the almost 50-year period after the Roe v. Wade decision, nearly 64 million children have been killed through abortion.

whether at its earliest stages or at its final stages, are all the more serious because most often they are “carried out in the very heart of and with the complicity of the family—the family which by its nature is called to be the ‘sanctuary of life.’”² This is the place where a person should be most loved, cherished, and protected.

Catholics are called to defend human life wherever it is threatened and stand up for human dignity wherever it is violated. The enormous number of human lives destroyed by abortion is one factor that elevates its importance. Beginning in 1973 with Roe v. Wade, and during the nearly

50-year period after Roe in which the Supreme Court forbade state prohibitions on abortion, nearly 64 million children have been killed—and untold numbers of women and men suffer in the aftermath.³

Even with the overturning of Roe v. Wade in June 2022, a decision that returns the abortion issue to the electorate, many states continue not to recognize children in their mothers’ wombs

Many states continue not to recognize children in their mothers' wombs as persons warranting protection under the law.

as persons warranting protection under the law. Federal laws in our country fail to protect the lives of unborn children, and many political leaders at the state and federal level, work actively to increase access to abortion. Some falsely describe it as health care and even as a basic human right.⁴

People of good will must boldly stand up against this intrinsic evil, especially when it is occurring on a massive scale, implemented in law and funded, in some instances, by the government. As believers and citizens inspired by the Gospel and guided by the shepherds of our Church, we must do what we can to end violence in the womb, to ensure that unborn children are fully recognized and protected by our laws, and to support mothers and fathers in embracing life.

At of the time of original publication in October 2020, Archbishop Naumann was Archbishop of Kansas City, Kansas and Chair of the USCCB Committee on Pro-Life Activities.

³ This paragraph has been revised in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's 2022 decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, in which the Court returned the issue of abortion to the people's elected representatives at the Federal and State levels. As of October 2022, abortion is legal in more states than not, and more work is needed in the coming months and years.

THE SCREWTAPE LETTERS

C.S. Lewis’ THE SCREWTAPE LETTERS is coming to a theater in Indianapolis! Kristy Bockrath wants to invite anyone to join her in going on November 16. One show only at Butler Arts & Events Center in Indianapolis. Planning in its early stages. Call 937-361-6590.

SERMON ON MARK 10:13-16

I was privileged to witness medical history being made at Cincinnati Children's. The transplant doctors performed the first ever partial liver transplant from a mother to her baby. Mom's liver was a perfect match. Without this transplant the baby could not live. I became involved because the mother wanted a Catholic priest to pray over her and her baby before surgery. I was called to the Pre-Operative Prep room to give the blessing. The mother lay on a gurney, her eyes locked intensely upon her baby on a gurney close to her. Two nurses joined us. The room was filled with hope, tempered by anxiety this procedure could fail. Both mother and baby could be lost.

Mom held her child's little hand gently in hers. She said, "Honey, mommy is going to give you a big healthy liver. I gave you life once. Now I'm giving you life again." She said to me, "Father, pray that after this transplant my daughter and I can go home to celebrate the best Christmas ever."

I anointed both mom and baby. Before leaving the room, I quoted to her this Bible verse from Luke 8:50; "Do not fear; only believe..." The scene of this mother holding her baby's hand reminded me of Michelangelo's fresco of "God Creating Adam" where God touches Adam with His Divine finger calling him to life.

The surgery lasted over twelve hours with two teams of doctors creating an historic moment offering hope to mothers their babies can live. This hope was not disappointing. Both mother and baby survived. The surgery was completely successful.

I remember seeing mom after the surgery. She was so happy. She said, "Father, don't make me laugh. My side still hurts." She added, "I kept believing just like Jesus said."

Jesus says in Mark 10:15, "I tell you the truth, anyone who doesn't receive the Kingdom of God like a child will never enter it." What does this mean?

Your faith in Jesus is based on two things: helplessness and dependence. The world says these are bad. In God's Kingdom, these are required to belong. All the people whom Jesus healed were helpless.

So many things in life can make you helpless. Things that are not under your control: a sudden unexpected illness, family problems, money concerns, and a myriad of other problems that make you say, "I don't know what to do?"

Accepting your helplessness is a good thing because you realize I cannot fix this on my own. You don't have to struggle needlessly.

My helplessness leads me to depend on someone who can help. That someone is God. Jesus said, "they ought always to pray and not lose heart." (Luke 18:1) When I take my problems to Jesus, I have no reason to get discouraged. I feel His peace that comes from believing God can do for me what I can't do for myself. On this belief, many addicts have found sobriety for years. God says, "Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivers him out of them all." (Psalm 34:19)

I wonder what that first Christmas was like for that mother who gave a "second birth" to her baby daughter. I can imagine mom thanking God as she held in her arms the greatest gift God could ever give. God calls you to rest in His arms as the child of God that you are. Merry Christmas Blessings to you every day of the year...
