ROSARIES

It's been less than seven months since we added the Rosary to the Ascension App...

And it's already been prayed more than 1 million times!

We can't wait to see what the Holy Spirit and Our Lady do next.

If you want to join in praying the Rosary with Fr. Mike Schmitz, Fr. Mark-Mary Ames, Jeff Cavins, the Sisters of Life, and others, simply download the Ascension App today.

You can add intentions, read Scripture verses, and meditate on sacred images related to each mystery while you're praying.

It's totally free to download and start praying!

What is the devotion to the Holy Face?

Loving Jesus' Holy Face can atone for grave sins.

During Our Lord's Passion, His Face was ravaged by the blows and spit of the guards, soldiers, and crowds.

Today, every blasphemy is a spiritual injury to His Holy Face.

In the mid-19th century, Our Lord appeared to a Carmelite nun and spoke to her of the sins—in particular, the sins of blasphemy, atheism, communism, and profanation of Sundays, especially by Christians – which continually wound Him. He told her that His great mercy holds back His justice from immediately punishing those who offend Him in this way, and requested that devotion to His Holy Face be promulgated.

The devotion was accompanied by the prayer known as "The Golden Arrow," and would strike Our Lord's Heart with welcome veneration and reparation. Those devoted to the Holy Face would console Our Lord and repair the injuries done to His Face.

The Carmelite sister who received these apparitions died very young, but her efforts to promote the devotion were carried on by a zealous and holy Frenchman: M. Leo Dupont. M. Dupont kept an image of the Holy Face in his house, and hundreds of miracles were wrought there through this devotion.

Finally, Pope Leo XIII established the Archconfraternity of the Holy Face, as Our Lord had requested, in 1885. The Feast of the Holy Face was later set on Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday.

Now, more than ever, our world needs reparation for the constant wounds inflicted on the Heart of Christ.

From the Pastor's Desk

As someone who likes to travel and has just moved, the thought of going on a trip – or moving to a new place with no money, no bags, and no shoes is mildly terrifying. Yet, in the sending of the seventy-two, much like Mark's account of the sending of the apostles, they are sent out with clear instructions about what to leave behind. Their packing list? Only two things: the message of the Kingdom and the power of Christ within them. I love the simple, yet profound lesson found in such a short list. The seventy-two, like the twelve apostles, were given a mission: go to every town and proclaim the coming of the Kingdom. I have no doubt this brought with it a degree of fear, anxiety, and uncertainty. Yet, though they had no bags and no money, they were given everything they needed in abundance to fulfill such a tall order: "I have given you power." The list of things to leave behind makes space for the most important thing – Christ Himself. Being new to our parish and stepping into a new role as pastor, this Gospel speaks to me deeply. My mission as a priest – and your mission as followers of Jesus – is exactly the same as it was for the apostles in Mark's Gospel and the seventy-two in Luke's: we are to go out and, in every place, proclaim the Kingdom of God by the way we live, in preparation for the coming of the Lord. Our packing list? The power of Christ, given to us through the Holy Spirit. Living the Christian life and living the mission is no easy task, but thankfully, we are given all that we need – and it comes to us in abundance. Let us then come to the Lord rejoicing for all He has done, and all He is going to do, both in our lives and in the life of our parish.

Fr. Scott Morgan

ON MISSION

Reflection on Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

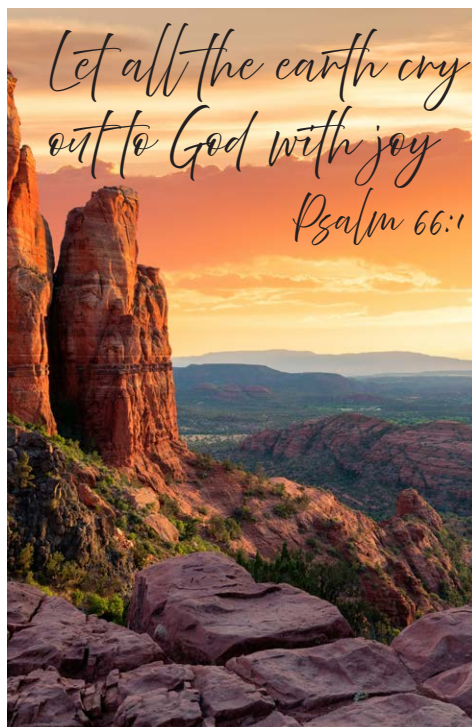

Luke's account of the commissioning and sending of His disciples offers us some significant mission tips we might do well to consider.

The seventy-two are sent out "in pairs." There is community in mission; we are not lone rangers. This evokes Paul's image of the Body of Christ, a community of many, each differently gifted. We have need of each other in mission.

"I am sending you like lambs among wolves," Jesus says. While this image may be a certain challenge to the more timid among us, it nonetheless grounds us in the reality that we must expect some push-back to the message. When that rejection comes – in the manner of a town you enter that won't receive you – don't make a nuisance of yourself. Simply proclaim the Kingdom, shake it off, and move on. After all, our task is to plant the seeds; God will nourish them for growth.

There is great rejoicing in mission, not because of anything you and I have accomplished, and certainly not because of any powerful or authoritative status we might feel, but because God's will is accomplished. We go forth in mission as Jesus did, not to be served, but to serve.

– Father Jay

SAINT BENEDICT

Saint of the Day: July 11

Patron Saint of Kidney Disease and Poisoning

It is unfortunate that no contemporary biography was written of a man who has exercised the greatest influence on monasticism in the West. Benedict is well recognized in the later Dialogues of Saint Gregory, but these are sketches to illustrate miraculous elements of his career.

Benedict was born into a distinguished family in central Italy, studied at Rome, and early in life was drawn to monasticism. At first he became a hermit, leaving a depressing world – pagan armies on the march, the Church torn by schism, people suffering from war, morality at a low ebb.

He soon realized that he could not live a hidden life in a small town any better than in a large city, so he withdrew to a cave high in the mountains for three years. Some monks chose Benedict as their leader for a while, but found his strictness not to their taste. Still the shift from hermit to community life had begun for him. He had an idea of gathering various families of monks into one "Grand Monastery" to give them the benefit of unity, fraternity, and permanent worship in one house. Finally he began to build what was to become one of the most famous monasteries in the world – Monte Cassino, commanding three narrow valleys running toward the mountains north of Naples.

The Rule that gradually developed prescribed a life of liturgical prayer, study, manual labor, and living together in community under a common abbot. Benedictine asceticism is known for its moderation, and Benedictine charity has always shown concern for the people in the surrounding countryside. In the course of the Middle Ages, all monasticism in the West was gradually brought under the Rule of St. Benedict.

Today the Benedictine family is represented by two branches: the Benedictine Federation encompassing the men and women of the Order of St. Benedict; and the Cistercians, men and women of the Order of Cistercians of the Strict Observance.
